Senior Pamphlet Garners NACo Achievement Award

SAN BERNARDINO – An information pamphlet for seniors created and distributed by Board of Supervisors Chairman Paul Biane’s office garnered one of 12 National Association of Counties (NACo) Achievement Awards bestowed on San Bernardino County this year.

“Congratulations to all of our award winners,” Biane said. “This recognition demonstrates the emphasis our County places on developing innovative programs and services that create efficiencies and allow us to serve our residents better.”

The “Helpful Numbers for Seniors” pamphlet developed by Biane’s office received one of the Achievement Awards. The booklet contains telephone numbers and information about numerous senior programs. The pamphlet also provides information about services seniors may need to utilize such public transportation and hazardous waste disposal.

“I wanted to create a guide that puts information our seniors can use at their fingertips, and that’s exactly what the ‘Helpful Numbers of Seniors’ pamphlet does,” Biane said.

In addition to honoring winners, NACo catalogs Achievement Award programs along with information about how others can emulate the programs. The information is available to public officials in counties throughout the nation.

Residents can contact Biane’s office at (909) 945-4297 to receive a copy of the “Helpful Numbers for Seniors” pamphlet.
